ImageRight E-Learning is an effective, low-cost, electronic training tool. It combines the consistent, thorough instruction you've come to expect from ImageRight with the flexibility to select all or part of the instruction, based on specific needs.

E-Learning's powerful reporting features allow you to manage your employees and their training, helping you to get the most from your ImageRight investment. With E-Learning, users get hands-on, interactive simulations of ImageRight's various functions; and they can assess their knowledge through quizzes. In addition, a community of support is available through discussion forums, e-mail access to ImageRight trainers, and a knowledge center that contains reference materials.

ImageRight E-Learning is especially helpful when you need to train learners who are:

- New to your organization and ImageRight.
- Comfortable using functions but could use a refresher.
- Experienced but would like to expand their knowledge.
- Temporary, view-only users, such as auditors.

Using E-Learning, you can train employees at your convenience and offer the same training multiple times, providing a consistent training message. You can minimize Help Desk calls because users are able to navigate the system. You can make ImageRight use more efficient because users will know basic and advanced functionality. Your trainers can eliminate travel to remote offices and focus on other tasks or providing more specialized training.
